Andy;

I'd like to congratulate GRT on an excellent job performance in completing the Recovery Boiler rebuild project at PG Pulp with CIMS. Together we were able to bring this project under budget and ahead of schedule.

In my mind the key enabling factors for the project's success were high-quality project supervision, good communication and perhaps most importantly, the significant detail planning by CIMS and GRT together in the months preceding project start up. It was during that time that the potential construction issues were surfaced, innovative solutions developed and crystalized into a solid plan.

We look forward to working with you on future projects.

Best Regards,
